WinSport elects new members to Board of Directors, Scott Hutcheson appointed as new Chair

CALGARY, Alta. – WinSport President & CEO Barry M. Heck announced today that three new members have been elected to WinSport's Board of Directors. In addition, Scott Hutcheson has transitioned to the position of Chair from his Vice Chair role.

Joining the Board for two-year terms following their appointment Tuesday evening at the WinSport Community Connect and Outlook (annual general meeting) are Calgary's Rebecca Morley, Andrew Judson and Greg Kwong.

"Rebecca, Andrew and Greg bring a wealth of experience, business acumen and community leadership to the WinSport team and are great additions to an already strong Board," said Heck. "Scott has been instrumental in helping WinSport achieve success during his 10 years on the Board and we're excited for him to continue to be a key contributor in his new role as Board Chair."

Hutcheson is Executive Chairman and co-founder of Aspen Properties Ltd. He previously worked as an investment banker for Goldman Sachs & Co. He serves on numerous boards, advisory councils and committees in Calgary, including Arts Commons, Calgary Economic Development's Commercial Real Estate Advisory Committee (CREAC), Winterstart and Own the Podium. He has also served on WinSport's Board for the past 10 years.

Morley is a senior financial executive and corporate director. She has extensive experience in all aspects of asset management, including portfolio management, fund structuring, fundraising, marketing and compliance and regulatory adherence. Morley also serves on the Board of Directors of Birchcliff Energy, as Board Chair at YW Calgary and has contributed to the charity sector through KidSport Calgary and the Brain Tumour Foundation of Canada.

Judson is Managing Director & Investment Committee Member at Camcor, a private equity fund manager. Previously, he worked for FirstEnergy Capital where he advised some of the largest institutional investors in Canada, the United States and Europe on their energy-related investments. He also is director of the Fraser Institute, one of Canada's largest policy think tanks, and chairs the annual Tribute Dinner, which is the organization's yearly fundraiser.

Kwong is Executive Vice-President and Regional Managing Director of CBRE Limited and has more than 29 years of experience in the commercial real estate field in markets across Canada. He has volunteered his time with several organizations, including the National Association of Industrial and Office Properties, the Calgary Stampede, Calgary Airport Authority and the Salvation Army.

"Rebecca, Andrew and Greg have all done extraordinary work in both the business sector and in the community and we welcome them to the WinSport Board," said Hutcheson. "Their experience, passion and strong work ethic will help us deliver our purpose of inspiring and activating human potential through the spirit of sport."

The 2016-17 WinSport Board of Directors consists of elected members: Scott Hutcheson (Chair), Barry Heck (President and CEO), Perry Spitznagel (Vice Chair), Don Archibald, Kevin Benson, Peter Cohos, Andrew Judson, Greg Kwong, Rebecca Morley, Jim Peplinski, Jim Riddell, Deborah Yedlin and Paul Zonneveld. Representatives from four key stakeholders are appointed to the Board: Kelly Dearborn (Government of Canada), Lloyd Bentz (Province of Alberta), Kyle Ripley (City of Calgary) and Dru Marshall (University of Calgary).
