WinSport extends winter ski and snowboard season to April 9

CALGARY, Alta. – Skiers and snowboarders will have an extra week to enjoy spring-like conditions at Canada Olympic Park, as WinSport is excited to announce that the season will be extended by one week. The closing date of the hill is now scheduled for April 9 (weather permitting).

Mother Nature's roller-coaster ride of temperatures over the past few weeks has helped make for great conditions at WinSport. With spring break just over a week away, there are plenty of options to keep the kids active throughout the break.

Although daytime high temperatures are forecasted to be steadily above zero, overnight lows are still cool enough to keep the snow in prime conditions for skiing and snowboarding. The hill is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekends until April 2, with special weekday hours of 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. from April 3-7, providing skiers and riders plenty of options to carve some turns and soak up some rays.

WinSport is still offering group and private lessons ski and snowboard lessons and provides a variety of lift tickets, including full-day, four-hour, two-hour and final hour pricing. Visit winsport.ca for complete pricing.

No closing date has been set for the Acura Tube Park, with the expectations that it will remain open throughout April (weather permitting).
